Bears sign Nick Novak

The Chicago Bears announced the signing of placekicker Nick Novak and have allocated him to NFL Europe. Terms of the deal were not disclosed. Novak has scored 64 points during his two-year career split between Washington and Arizona, including 25 in six games played with the Redskins in 2006. The 6-0, 189-pounder has career conversion numbers of 13-of-20 on field goals and 25-of-25 on extra points. Novak originally entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with the Bears in 2005, signing with the team on April 29 and being waived after training camp on August 28. The University of Maryland product converted three field goals for Chicago during the 2005 preseason.
